Below is a list of CPT[®],^a CVX, MVX, and ICD-10-CM^b codes that may be relevant for Merck products and administration. CPT codes are effective as of January 2015 as set forth in the Current Procedural Terminology 2015, and ICD-10-CM codes are effective for dates of service on or after October 1, 2015, as set forth in the International Classification of Diseases, Tenth Revision, Clinical Modification. Plan coding requirements may vary, so it is important to check with each payer as to payer-specific requirements. For claim submission procedures regarding government programs (eg, Medicare or Medicaid), contact the appropriate program representative.

CVX and MVX Codes

CVX codes are codes that indicate the product used in a vaccination. They are maintained by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Immunization Information System Support Branch (IISB) for use in HL7 data transmission. MVX codes are codes that indicate the manufacturer of a vaccine. When an MVX code is paired with a CVX (vaccine administered) code, the immunization can be resolved to a trade name (the proprietary name of the product). These codes may be used to record individual immunization history in one or more electronic systems, such as:

- Electronic Health Records (EHR)
- Electronic Medical Records (EMR)

ICD-10-CM Codes (Diagnosis Codes)

Merck has provided these codes as a reference. Coding requirements may vary by insurer or plan.

When billing, you will also need to provide an appropriate diagnosis code. Below are commonly used diagnosis codes that may apply to private payer reimbursement for the relevant product CPT Code. Diagnosis codes may be utilized or mandated by payers to describe the disease for which the product is administered. Consult the ICD-10-CM manual for a description of each code to determine the appropriateness of a particular code and for information on additional codes.
